

Rural Health Learning Collaborative

GETTING TO KNOW YOUR RURAL HEALTH PARTNERS

FEBRUARY 29TH, 2016

Collaborative Highlights

- The National Organization of State Offices of Rural Health is providing support for the Learning Collaborative webinars.
- The Federal Office of Rural Health Policy is the primary financial sponsor of the webinars.
- The continued goal: Sharing of good ideas and programs among participants

Who to Contact for more Information?

- Teryl Eisinger, Executive Director, National Office of State Offices of Rural Health, teryle@nosorh.org
- Kathryn Umali, Federal Office of Rural Health Policy, KUmali@hrsa.gov
- Karrie Witkind, Telligen - CMS Nat'l Coordinating Center, Karrie.Witkind@qinncc.hcqis.org
- Georgia Ann Moore, CDC/OSTLTS/OD, gbm7@cdc.gov
- Kate L. Agin, CDC/OSTLTS/OD, kla4@cdc.gov
- Barbara Levin; Population Health Consultant, Barbl11@aol.com
- Kate Perkins, MCD Public Health kperkins@mcdph.org

Presenters

- Kathryn Umali, MPH, CHES
 - Federal Office of Rural Health Policy
- Kathleen Spencer, MS, MLS
 - Rural Health Information Hub
- Matt Strycker
 - National Organization of State Offices of Rural Health
- Barb Levin, MD and Kate Perkins, MPA
 - American Public Health Association
- Karrie Witkind, MS
 - Quality Innovation Network National Coordinating Center
- Georgia Moore, MS
 - Associate Director for Policy, CDC/OSTLTS

Please Follow Up

- Please fill out the survey monkey that will pop up at the end of the webinar.
- Suggestions for topics and speakers are appreciated
- Please register as early as possible for sessions so we can anticipate the audience needs.

March Webinar

The Community Health Centers & Telehealth: Operating a Telehealth Program in this Changing Environment

In 2015, the Center for Connected Health Policy (CCHP) conducted a study with five California community health clinics to look at the true cost of running a telehealth program in a safety net setting and what it would take to make it sustainable. In addition to the results of that study, two of the participating clinics will provide their insight and experiences in running a telehealth program.

March 28st, 2016 at 3:00pm Eastern

Thank you for the help !

- Thank you to Matt Strycker and Paige Law of NOSORH for their help with this session.
- Special thanks to our speakers.
- Thank you to Kathryn Umali and Tom Morris of the Federal Office for Rural Health Policy for your support, and to Kate Agin and Georgia Moore from OSTLTS at the CDC.