Agricultural Safety for Rural Workers: Resources for SORHs

Date: Monday, April 30, 2018

Time: 3:00 – 4:00 pm EST

Intended Audience: State Offices of Rural Health

Rural agricultural workers are an underserved population and are subject to a unique range of health risks including respiratory hazards, exposure to Zika and injuries. This webinar will provide information and resources to meeting the needs of rural agricultural workers. At the end of the webinar participants will:

1. Understand the differences in occupational exposure to vapor-gas, dust, and fumes between rural and urban workers.
2. Identify resources and data/trends/safety precautions regarding the Zika virus; and
3. Access educational resources for nurses who care for agricultural workers.
